Mario G. YACUB "disappeared" after he was kidnapped on Nov. 1, 1976, in Buenos Aires.

Yacub was an attorney and secretary of the B.A. Bar. He had defended numerous questionable persons accused of terrorist acts, but he himself was said never to have been involved in violence.

Only recently sources from Buenos Aires said that Yacub was taken and is being held "alive" by the Argentine Navy.

Yacub's case has been looked into by Amnesty, the offices of Kennedy, Drinan and others.

Yacub was active after the overthrow of Isabel in helping Human Rights cases.

His wife at present, Lea Yacub, is working at SADE, a consulting firm, in Tegucigalpa, Honduras.
